About Eric Brown, MD

Eric Brown, MD, was president of the Minnesota Psychiatric Society and the life force behind the MPS Residents Caucus. Dr. Brown was a lifelong learner and firm believer in self-directed exploration and development. He founded the MPS Residents Caucus empowering residents and fellows to determine their own programming and direction. He engaged the leadership of the Minnesota Psychiatric Society as a resident representative and furthered his commitment to trainee-directed leadership as its president. This scholarship honors Dr Brown's contributions as a resident and his leadership and commitment to the next generation of psychiatric leaders. It offers recipients the opportunity to explore individual research and career aspirations with funding to support those dreams.

Scholarship applications are due annually on August 31st, and recipients are notified by September 10th.

Applicants are asked to:

- be a resident or fellow in a Minnesota Psychiatry Residency Training Program.
- describe the applicant's current project or interest to be supported with an exploratory grant.
- describe how the applicant will utilize this scholarship and how they will apply their learning.
- attach their CV with their application.
